

LESSON TWO

ACCESSING THE AKASHIC RECORDS

In most cases, you cannot access another person's Soul-level information without their permission. Unrequested and unwanted "help" dishonors the free will of another. Be careful of ever thinking you are beyond the need for permission, or that your intention to "help" others allows you to transcend these boundaries. Acknowledge everyone as the powerful creators of their own experience. If they do not desire assistance, this is their right.

You always have full and complete access to your own Soul-level information. This does not, as mentioned previously, make you a good practice client for yourself. Please wait to do the work on your own behalf until you've completed this course. Your clients also have full and complete access to their own Soul-level information. When your clients hire you, or if someone simply asks you to do this work for them, you receive a mandate to access their information on their behalf.

We do not practice Soul Realignment® for a newborn. Please wait at least twelve weeks after birth to do this work for a baby. It can take this long for the Soul to be fully integrated with the physical body. This is a process that we do not want to disrupt. We also cannot do this work for an unborn baby during a pregnancy. Even though the parents may be curious as to who their new family member is at Soul-level, they will have to wait until their baby is at least twelve weeks old. It is, however, perfectly fine to do this work during pregnancy for the mom-to-be.

While we usually need conscious permission to do Soul Realignment® for another person, there are a few exceptions. Power and responsibility go hand and hand. If we are responsible for another human being, we also have a degree of power over them. An example of this are our minor children. We are responsible for their well-being, for seeing them fed and clothed and sheltered. As parents, we are therefore also empowered to do this work on behalf of our minor children without their permission.

A simple hallmark of responsibility for another is financial responsibility. We can, for example, do Soul Realignment® work on behalf our adult child if they are still financially dependent on us.

We can also do Soul Realignment® work on behalf of an adult if we are legally or financially responsible for them because of disability, mental health issues, or dementia.

Soul Realignment® is highly recommended for children. When we know who our children are, at Soul-level, we can stop parenting them the way we want to be parented, and start parenting them based on who they are. Parent-child relationships can undergo a beautiful transformation through our work.

As children become older and make more of their own choices, they can become involved in their sessions. Leave it to the parent's discernment whether their child is mature enough to talk to you alone, or receive a session with their parent present. Another option is to present the session to the parent with the understanding that they will later listen to the session recording with their child, so that they can stop the replay and talk about what was being said.

Clients may request Soul Realignment® work on behalf of their loved ones according to these guidelines, as well. You can conduct Soul Realignment® sessions for your client's minor children upon their request, or on behalf of any adult dependents. We can also access Soul-level information for all of our family members, although we cannot do any clearing work for them. It is an amazing gift to all of our loved ones to recognize them for who they are, at Soul-level. This also helps us in understanding ourselves. The more you know about the Souls that surround you, every day, the greater your understanding of your own Divine Soul Blueprint.

We are always able to do a Soul Realignment® session for our live-in partners. When we are in a partnership, the other person's choices become our consequences. We are responsible to one another, therefore also have the power to do clearing work on behalf of one another. We do not have automatic access for someone we are merely dating. It is the impact of the other person's choices on our own lives that gives us permission, and in a simple dating situation, our lives are still separate. We also do not have Akashic Records access for ex-partners, even if we share children with them.

Even though we can perform this work on behalf of our partner doesn't necessarily mean it is appropriate to do so. Occasionally, clients will ask us to do this work on behalf of their partners in an attempt to "fix" them without their participation. This is inappropriate. At other times, the relationship is troubled and the client wants a session in a last-ditch effort to understand their spouse. This intention is much more congruent to our work.

If a spouse has expressly denied permission, then proceeding with a session would constitute an interference with their free will. Please be highly discerning when it comes to adults who are responsible for themselves! When in doubt, ask yourself how you would feel if someone else were to access your Records in the same situation. Ask your clients the same question. If it feels wrong, then the session is probably not appropriate.

Obviously, we cannot gain permission from those that have transitioned out of this human experience. Please note that you can do Soul Realignment® work for your deceased loved ones, as well as those of your clients upon their request. As with newborns, please wait for at least twelve weeks after the person has transitioned to do our work. You cannot access Soul-level information for deceased people with whom you did not have a close personal connection.

Doing our work for a Soul that has transitioned is sometimes a way of giving comfort and closure to the loved ones that remain behind. If loved ones struggle to feel complete with the relationship, have trouble understanding the circumstances of their loved one's death, or simply want to do something for them, then a Soul Realignment® session can truly serve them.

This work is not suitable for animals. Animals have an entirely different Soul structure and a very different level of free will on our planet. Soul Realignment® is specific to human Souls, so please only do this work on behalf of actual people.

ACCESSING THE AKASHIC RECORDS

Please complete your portion of the attunement process before moving forward. The process is video-based and located in your members area. You will want to both watch and listen to the video process, every day for seven days in a row. However, you can proceed with your course work as soon as you've completed the attunement process for the first time.

You are now ready to access fifth-dimensional, Soul-level information. Akashic Records access is governed by intent. You are already part of the fifth-dimensional energetic information super highway and connected to the Records. However, it is usually helpful to the conscious mind if you do a very brief visualization process to set your intention.

A meditative state is not required. This process is simply about focusing your intent, not having a visual experience in your mind's eye. Do not be concerned if you are not a visual person.

To start, bring your attention to the present moment. A good way to do this is to take a few breaths consciously.

Now, close your eyes and imagine standing in front of an elevator. When you look up at the display above the elevator, you notice that you are on the third floor. Now, imagine the elevator doors open. Go inside, press the button for the fifth floor, the elevator doors close, and you go for a short ride. When the elevator doors open, you step out onto the fifth floor. The intention is that you are accessing the fifth dimension, of course.

If you like, you can imagine that, as you step off the elevator, there is a computer terminal in front of you, ready for you to enter a person's name so that you can look up their Soul-level information. You can also imagine a filing cabinet. From this point on, open your eyes and engage with our protocols. This visualization need not be maintained or take more than a few seconds.

EXITING THE AKASHIC RECORDS

It is equally important to set your intention to leave fifth-dimensional consciousness behind when you are done with your Soul Realignment® work! Otherwise, you might end up feeling spacey, ungrounded, and have trouble maintaining healthy energetic boundaries. The fifth dimension is a highly interconnected place. To finish your Soul Realignment® work, reverse the visualization you did to access fifth-dimensional consciousness. Take a quick elevator ride back to the third floor, and take a few conscious breaths.

Allow the process of entering and exiting the Akashic Records to be easy. Your mind and ego may want to make this process more of a sensory experience than it needs to be. Resist the urge to feel like you are doing something extraordinary. The fifth dimension is governed by intent ... once you've done your attunement, accessing it is easy.

When you are accessing Soul-level information for someone, please do not imagine or visualize the person. Please note that you are not communicating with the Soul. You are observing information about the Soul. Please remain detached emotionally from the process. Do not try to feel your way into the Soul's experience. This can create too much energetic enmeshment.

NAVIGATING THE AKASHIC RECORDS

Please do all practice client work for each lesson in our program before moving on to the next lesson. Do not try to study Soul Realignment® from a purely intellectual perspective. You will receive a lot of energetic information from the Records themselves every time you access information for a specific Soul. Without putting this work into practice, the mind can easily become overwhelmed. If you allow yourself to experience the energy of accessing fifth-dimensional information, integration happens very quickly.

Since you have five practice clients, you will want to enter the fifth dimension, do the work for all five practice clients, then exit. This means you'll be accessing information for five different Souls. When you've completed your work for a specific practice client, simply state "I am closing access for this Soul" or "I am disconnecting from this Soul's Record." You can then move on to opening the next Soul's Record.

ACCESSING A SPECIFIC SOUL

Once you've intentionally accessed the fifth-dimensional consciousness of the Akashic Records through our brief visualization process, you will now want to locate the Soul. In order to do this, you need the following information from your practice clients:

- Their full current name
- Name at birth
- Date of birth
- Place of birth

However the client gives you this information is perfectly appropriate. If a client was adopted, a name at birth or even date and exact place of birth may not be available. Just use whatever information the client has available. This may mean using the name they were adopted under, a birth month, and a country of birth. You can supplement the available birth information with the names of the adoptive parents, or current address and contact information, if necessary.

Place your client's information at the top of your Soul Realignment® session sheet. You can download the session sheet from your online members area.

LOCATING THE SOUL

In order to access a specific Soul, we must first locate that specific Soul, using the birth information the client gave us. Birth information is a convenient way to identify a Soul, since our name, date and place of birth are a vibrational match for the Soul at the time of its incarnation. We also double-check to make sure we don't have the Soul confused with any other Being.

Most of the time, you'll immediately get a "yes" to locating the Soul and a "no" to whether you have them confused with another Being, alive or dead. This means you can continue to the next question. However, at times you might get an initial "yes" to locating the Soul, but then also a "yes" to having them confused. Occasionally, you'll just get a "no" to locating the Soul. Both of these means one simple thing - the Soul does not want to be accessed, and we have to stop the session.

MONO-SOULED / SOUL-SHIFTING

In a Soul-shifting situation, different Souls are occupying the incarnation at different times. This situation arises through negative choices and is not as scary as it sounds. Soul-shifting is rare. Most of the time, you'll receive a "yes" to mono-souled and can move on. A person is either mono-souled OR soul-shifting. They cannot be both. Make this an established part of your frame of reference and insist on one or the other.

The first thing we must establish in order to gain accurate information is which Soul we are accessing. Soul-shifting always involves two or more Souls. Most times, two to four Souls are involved, but some rare Soul-shifting situations can involve as many as twenty Souls or more. If you find that the person you are accessing is Soul-shifting, you must first identify which Soul you are actually working for before you can proceed with the rest of the protocol! If you get a "no" to mono-souled and "yes" to Soul-shifting, please go through the Soul-shifting protocol in this lesson so that you more thoroughly understand this issue! You cannot proceed with the rest of the work in this lesson before identifying which Soul you are actually accessing.

LOCATING THE SOUL: PROTOCOL

- Do I locate this individual, [current name, born as (name at birth), on (date of birth) in (place of birth)] in the Akashic Records?
- Do I have this individual confused with any other, alive or dead?
- Is [Client Name] a mono-souled individual, with one Soul in this body for this lifetime?
- (If no) Is [Client Name] Soul-shifting with two or more Souls involved?

You will have to ask the first two questions every single time you access a person's Record. You can then continue the session preparation where you left off. Never forget to ensure that you have the proper Soul located in the Akashic Records, or you may compromise your own accuracy.

ESTABLISHING SOUL STATUS

Now that we have the Soul located and, in case of Soul-shifting, we know which Souls we are accessing, we are ready to establish Soul status. Soul status lets us know whether the Soul is positive or negative, and also ensures that we have permission to do further work in the Records for this Soul. Soul status also lets us know whether we have accurate access to the Soul's Akashic Records.

BLOCKS TO TRUTH

A “block to Truth” indicates that we do not have access to accurate information from this Soul’s Record. We are literally blocked from the client’s Truth. If there are no blocks to Truth, all information you are receiving about the Soul orientation is accurate and you can proceed with the session protocols. You may, however, receive a “yes” to blocks to Truth being present. This means you do not have access to accurate information for this Soul.

There are three Soul-level energetic situations that will not allow us accurate access on a Soul’s behalf, regardless of their negative or positive orientation. These blocks to Truth either stop the session, or must be cleared so we can proceed with an accurate session. We never simply want to ignore a block to Truth!

SHELLS

A shell is the emotional body of another person, taken on by the Soul right after transition of that other person. Shells are a fairly rare phenomenon. When we die, we leave behind our physical “shell” first, then shed our emotional body as we continue with our transition. Normally, the emotional body dissipates, since it is no longer being nurtured by vital force energy. However, another Soul can capture this emotional body shell before it dissipates and use it as camouflage that hides its true identity. A shell is the equivalent of a Soul wearing a mask. We must always clear a shell before we can proceed with an accurate reading.

CHANGELINGS

We will go into further details about the Changeling Soul group later in this course. A Changeling Soul has a highly unstable Divine Soul Blueprint. Because of this instability, it is impossible to receive accurate information about a Changeling Soul. That's why a Changeling Soul constitutes a "block to Truth." If you come across a Changeling Soul, the session ends here.

LIGHT POWER IMAGING

Light Power Imaging (LPI) is a Soul-level technique that also masks the Soul's identity. Imagine a Light Power Imager surrounding themselves with energetic "mirrors" that serve as a facade device. These devices hide the nature of their Soul while reflecting other people's energetic qualities back to them. Souls who employ LPI are often very charming people - they reflect our best qualities back to us and make us feel great,

Unfortunately, the Soul that employs Light Power Imaging tends to lose itself behind its own mirrors over time. Light Power Imagers show up differently, depending on who is around. They change personalities based on the people in their environment. We must always clear Light Power Imaging before we can proceed with the session.

POSITIVE/NEGATIVE SOUL ORIENTATION

Most Souls you'll encounter in our work will be positive. However, you may occasionally come across a "negative" Soul. A "negative" Soul in our work is a clearly defined energetic phenomenon. It doesn't indicate a "bad" or even "negative" person.

Through sustained negative choices, it's possible to completely disrupt our own Divine Soul Blueprint to the point that we can no longer receive any vital force energy from Divine Source. When this happens, we must derive vital force energy from other people. A negative Soul is a Soul that has so completely disrupted its Divine Soul Blueprint that it no longer receives any vital force energy directly from Divine Source.

Do not judge this situation. Most people do not receive enough vital force energy from Divine Source and therefore receive it from each other. Every relationship involves an exchange of vital force energy. Ideally, this exchange is even and equal. There are plenty of positive Souls that draw on other people for vital force energy in a way that is not an equal exchange.

However, positive Souls still receive at least some vital force energy from Divine Source via their Divine Soul Blueprint. They may still be making many negative choices, but at least some vital force energy is still coming directly from Divine Source. Positive Souls, therefore, are still seeking to realign to their original Divine Soul Blueprint in order to receive more vital force energy. Negative Souls, on the other hand, completely rely on other people for their vital force energy.

They must maintain relationships in which they are receiving an imbalanced amount of vital force energy from others. Negative Souls are actually no longer utilizing their Divine Soul Blueprint at all. Therefore, they actually don't have any interest in realigning to it. "Positive" and "negative" choices are irrelevant to a negative Soul. For them, it is simply important to gain attention, because energy follows attention and focus.

Negative Souls do seek a lot of our attention because we are their source of vital force energy. They often do so through manipulation and control. Sometimes they love to be helped by others in a quest for attention. Please note that Souls arrive at their negative orientation through choice. It's a perfectly valid choice that we do not judge, or try to fix, heal, or rescue from.

The Law of Polarity states that everything must have its equal opposite in order to exist. Negative Souls provide a necessary polarity to positive Souls, and their existence is perfectly in Divine Order. There are entire Soul groups that are negative in orientation. Negative Souls can at all times begin utilizing their Divine Soul Blueprint again, through choice.

It is impossible to tell a negative from a positive Soul unless you access their Akashic Record. Positive Souls can engage in just as much manipulation and attention-seeking behavior as negative Souls. They may also be making mostly negative choices, and may only be receiving minimal vital force energy from Divine Source.

Negative Souls can be incredibly charming and positive while some positive Souls can be miserable jerks. Never judge a book by its cover! Unless you have permission to access someone's Akashic Records, it is impossible to tell the Soul's orientation. The only reason it is of importance in our modality is that we cannot do this work for negative Souls, since their Divine Soul Blueprint has become irrelevant to the way they receive vital force energy.

If you discover that you are accessing a negative Soul, the session ends here. Our modality is all about realigning to our original Divine Soul Blueprint. Since negative Souls have negated their Divine Soul Blueprint, our work simply does not serve them.

Changelings are actually negative Souls - the instability of their Divine Soul Blueprint means they must receive vital force energy exclusively from others. Light Power Imaging is a negative technique that can be employed by both negative and positive Souls. It is a way of gathering vital force energy from others.

It can be a bit awkward to tell a practice client that we cannot complete their session. Never do we tell a practice client “You’re a negative Soul.” The word “negative” outside of this modality has a lot of judgment associated with it. Simply tell the practice client that their Record was not available at this time for a session.

If you’re doing a session for a loved one on a client’s behalf, use your best discernment as to whether to tell them that the Soul is negative. Occasionally it can be healing and validating for them to know that they are in a relationship with a negative Soul. However, you’ll find that most of the time, the people you attract for sessions are positive Souls and have no blocks to Truth.

ESTABLISHING SOUL STATUS: PROTOCOL

- Are any Soul situations disallowing access to Truth for this Soul at this time?
- (If yes) Is this Soul using a shell? Is this Soul a Changeling? Is this Soul a Light Power Imager?
- (If no) Is this Soul positive?
- (If no) Is this Soul negative?

CLEARING SHELLS

We always have to clear a shell before we can proceed with the session. Before we do so, however, we want to glean a little bit more information about the shell mechanism itself. We can share this information with the client in the session. Because shells cause confusion about our own identity, clients with shells sometimes do not resonate at all with their Blueprint information.

Shells are either positive or negative, for protection or deception. Most positive Souls will use a positive shell for protection. Shells of deception mask the Soul's positive or negative orientation. Shells of deception make a positive Soul appear negative, or a negative Soul appear positive.

We designate a shell as negative or positive depending on the perceived orientation it gives the Soul. A shell is never something "good" that serves the Soul. When designate a shell as "positive" because it makes the Soul appear positive in energetic orientation.

A positive Soul may use a positive shell of protection because it feels the need to hide its true nature. This is the most common kind of shell. However, positive Soul may also use a negative shell of deception. The Soul feels that it is safer to appear as negative, possibly because it attracts negative Souls, and does not want to be an energy source. A positive Soul can use a negative shell of deception to be a sheep in wolf's clothing.

A negative Soul may use a positive shell of deception to appear as a positive Soul to others. This is the most common type of shell of deception. It is extremely rare for a negative Soul to use a shell of protection. If you do come across this, you may find that once the shell is cleared, the Soul is not, in fact, negative at all. Remember, the shell is a block to Truth. We always have to clear it before we know what kind of Soul we're actually dealing with.

We also want to find out to what extent our client's Soul identifies with the shell. This lets us know how mis-identified the client will be with their actual Blueprint information. If a client is only 10% identified with the shell, they will probably still resonate with their own Divine Soul Blueprint at least somewhat. If the client is 70% identified with the shell, they will have lost sight of their true Divine nature. It's a good thing to share this information with the client ... they will probably be at a loss for why they are always creating what they don't intend.

Shells require physical proximity to the person who is transitioning. Often they are taken on at birth, which happens in hospitals, where of course people are also dying and leaving their emotional bodies behind. There is no energetic connection between the two Souls other than physical proximity. No research is needed as to the Soul from which the shell has been derived. Since they are essentially the emotional body of a transitioned Soul, shells do not carry over from one lifetime to the next! They are always a present-life only phenomenon. A Soul can only have one shell.

A shell massively distorts our energy patterns, resulting in very mixed signals being sent into the Universe. It's often one step forward, one step back when it comes to these clients want creating what they want, especially when they are highly identified with the shell. They will generally have trouble setting clear intentions for themselves and may be highly confused as to what they want for their own experience.

Please tell the client they are using what is essentially a Soul-level mask. When you tell them how they may be experiencing the shell, most will feel relieved to know there's an energetic reason that validates their experience. Clients may acknowledge that they are very confused as to their own true identity, or that they are "in hiding." Clients will also resonate to having difficulties manifesting.

If you come across a shell, you must first clear the shell before proceeding with the session, because you cannot otherwise obtain accuracy. Please go ahead and complete this clearing request on behalf of your client while in their Akashic Record before proceeding with the rest of the session. You only need to do the clearing request once.

A Soul can actually present with multiple blocks to Truth. After you clear the shell, please repeat the protocol for establishing Soul status. You may in rare instances find a shell wrapped around a Light Power Imager who is also a Changeling.

SHELLS: PROTOCOL

- Is this shell being used for the sake of protection?
- (If no) Is this shell being used for the sake of deception?
- Does this shell originate from a positive Soul? A negative Soul?
- To what percentage does this Soul identify with the Soul from which the shell originated? Less than 50%? More than 50%? (Dowse for within 10%)

SHELLS: CLEARING REQUEST

I hereby set the following intention on behalf of [Client Name] and place this intention into [Client Name's] Akashic Record. I make this request for [Client Name] at all available dimensional aspects of their Being, in all concepts of time, throughout all of existence ...

Dissipate the shell about [Client Name] that they have used for the purpose of protection / deception (specify which). Dissipate the shell back to Divine Source. Please spheres of Protection in the shell's stead.

In the highest good of all Beings, I entrust this intention to be placed into [Client Name's] Akashic Record and carried out with joy. And so it is. Thank you, thank you, thank you.

CLEARING LIGHT POWER IMAGING

We always have to clear Light Power Imaging before we can proceed with the session. Before we do so, however, we want to know how long a Soul has been practicing LPI, so that we know how entrenched they are in the technique. If a Soul has only been using the technique for a lifetime or two, they are far more likely to give it up than if they've been using it for longer!

Tell the client they are using a reflective technique and that they may reflexively change their behavior based on who is around. You can also tell them that reflecting everyone else back to them creates confusion for them as to their own Soul-level identity. Clients who are LPI will also have a lot of preoccupation with how they are perceived, even though they are often socially very successful.

They will feel secretly insecure but love attention from others. They also need lots of engagement with other people. Our work may cause a positive Soul to give up this negative technique, since they can receive more vital force energy by making more positive choices. However, please detach from the outcome of our work!

When reading for LPI, the "mirrors" must be cleared for accurate Akashic Records access. This must be done every single time you enter their Record. Occasionally, Souls will put mirrors back up while you are in mid-session. If you start getting odd answers or your pendulum is suddenly unresponsive, ask again about whether you have access to Truth. You may have to do the clearing request one more time.

If LPI occurs in mid-session more than once, it's a clear indication that this Soul actually does not want this work to be done on its behalf, but merely wants your attention. We have to remember that negative Souls thrive on attention and LPI is a negative technique that loves the attention of other people! It is, after all, a way of gaining vital force energy from others. It is not uncommon for LPI to show up in our practice clients.

LIGHT POWER IMAGING: PROTOCOL

- For how many lifetimes has this Soul been practicing Light Power Imaging? More than one? Two? Etc.

LIGHT POWER IMAGING: CLEARING REQUEST

I hereby set the following intention on behalf of [Client Name] and place this intention into [Client Name's] Akashic Record. I make this request for [Client Name] at all available dimensional aspects of their Being, in all concepts of time, throughout all of existence ...

I request that all mirrors be severed in all directions with Divine Love, Light and Truth. Neutralize all negative or discordant energies arising from this severance. Retain all Soul memories and learning experiences associated with Light Power Imaging, acknowledging them as complete on all levels.

In the highest good of all Beings, I entrust this intention to be placed into [Client Name's] Akashic Record and carried out with joy. And so it is. Thank you, thank you, thank you.

SOUL-SHIFTING

In a Soul-shifting situation, different Souls are occupying the incarnation at different times. Soul-shifting situations are the result of past-life negative choices. You will learn how to research the root cause of Soul-shifting situations later in the course. For now, it is simply important that we establish which Soul you are accessing. We designate Souls as “First Breath of Life Soul” (1BOLS), “Second Breath of Life Soul” (2BOLS), “Third Breath of Life Soul” (3BOLS) based on the order by which they entered the incarnation.

ONE-TIME SOUL-SHIFTING

Soul-shifting situations are either a one-time occasion or ongoing. They cannot be both. In a one-time Soul-shifting situation, one Soul leaves the incarnation. Another comes in. It is truly one time that one Soul exits and another enters. In this case, the 2BOLS is always your “client.” One-time Soul-shifting situations are very rare. They are also referred to as “walk-ins.” This is the only Soul-shifting situation that we do not clear.

One-time Soul-shifting situations typically occur in young childhood. Occasionally, a Soul chooses to “opt out” of an incarnation. It can happen that parents of young children make a radical departure in the quality of their choices and take the life they are providing for their child completely out of alignment to the child’s Divine Soul Blueprint.

Both Souls involved in a one-time Soul-shifting situation are in collaboration when making the transition. Walk-in situations occur during unconsciousness, illness, or sleep. Because they usually happen in early childhood, the client will not have a memory of the event. However, everyone who hears about this phenomenon assumes they themselves are a walk-in. If a client ever comes to you, saying they are a walk-in, please do not take this at face value. Look at their Records. Chances are, there was no Soul-shifting situation.

Clients who experienced a one-time Soul shift may not feel quite at home or at ease in their bodies. They may also occasionally feel like they are living someone else's life. They may have trouble relating to their bodies because their Soul didn't actually prepare its own physical body during gestation, nor did it have a transition time immediately after birth to get used to its new physicality. Explaining this phenomenon to the client can help them accept their relationship with their body and life from a new perspective and greatly affirms their experience so far.

Please note that it is not necessary to research the nature of the 1BOLS. That Soul is no longer in this incarnation. Especially for a client that has experienced a one-time Soul-shift, we want to help them focus on who they are now, at Soul-level, rather than distracting them with irrelevant information about the previous Soul!

ONGOING SOUL-SHIFTING

Ongoing Soul-shifting situations are never in alignment with a Soul's Divine self-expression, because they limit the Soul's ability to experience itself in this incarnation through choice. It is never appropriate to have another Soul temporarily take over the incarnation through which our Soul is seeking to experience itself. We always clear ongoing Soul-shifting situations. However, before we can clear this situation, we must understand how it came about, which you will learn to do later in the course.

DESIGNATING THE CLIENT SOUL

For now, you simply want to know which Soul is intended for the incarnation. The intended Soul is your “client” and the only Soul you need access for in moving forward with your session. Whenever you access the Records for this client, you’ll want to state the intention that you are accessing information about the Soul that is intended, and only that Soul. For all dowsing protocol questions you ask on behalf of this client, replace “this Soul” with “the 1BOLS” or “the 2BOLS” etc. as appropriate.

Since you won’t yet know why this situation is ongoing, please do not alarm any practice clients by telling them they are Soul-shifting. Remember, there is more research to be done on this issue and you will only want to relay this information once you have full understanding of how this situation occurred.

ONGOING SOUL-SHIFTING

When a client is experiencing an ongoing Soul-shifting situation, they will at times find themselves making choices that are highly out of character. Depending on the relationship between the Souls involved, sometimes these out-of-character choices can be self-sabotaging. Please note that ongoing Soul-shifting is by no means an indication of multiple personality disorder. Soul-shifting clients can function fairly well in life.

However, they may find themselves frequently stuck or constantly feel like they are banging their heads against an invisible wall when it comes to their goals. Two Souls can't possibly make positive choices while sharing the same incarnation. Soul-shifting clients frequently find themselves at a standstill, although this lack of productive forward movement might be masked by a lot of drama and upheaval. Because trying to operate with two different Divine Soul Blueprints makes it incredibly difficult to receive enough vital force energy, these clients may also manifest health issues. We need enough vital force energy to stay healthy at the physical level.

For this reason, they may engage in quite a lot of attention-seeking behavior, which in our clients can translate to wanting "help" and support, and perhaps even quite a bit of victimization energy.

Clients will not black out or lose time when they are Soul-shifting! This is a spiritual phenomenon, not a psychological one, and the mind is not affected at the level of our subconscious memory. How affected the client is depends on how much time the various Souls spend in the body. If the Soul-shifting situation is occasional, with an additional Soul spending only 5% or so in the incarnation, the client will not struggle as much as if an additional Soul is taking up 40% of the incarnation or more.

You do not need to clear a Soul-shifting situation to accurately proceed with the rest of your session. Intentionally designating which Soul you are accessing is enough to give you accurate information from this point forward. We will clear the Soul-shifting situation eventually, once we have completed all of our session work.

SOUL-SHIFTING: PROTOCOL

- How many Souls are involved in this Soul-shifting situation?(Two? Three? Four? Etc.)
- Is this a one-time situation (MUST be two Souls ONLY), or is it ongoing?

For ongoing Soul-shifting ONLY:

- Which Soul was originally intended for this physical incarnation? (Usually 1BOLS, sometimes others. The intended Soul is your “client.”)
- What percentage of the time does the 1BOLS spend in the body? More than 50%? 60%? Etc. What percentage of time does the 2BOLS spend in the body? Etc. (MUST add up to 100%)
- Does the Soul shift happen daily? Weekly? Monthly? Less than monthly?

ABOUT YOU

As part of the attunement process I complete for you after you enroll in this program, I check for Soul-shifting situations, Soul status, as well as blocks to Truth. If you are in this program, you are definitely a positive Soul. I can also assure you that you are not Soul-shifting, do not have a shell, are not practicing LPI, nor are you a Changeling Soul.

LESSON TWO DOWSING PROTOCOL

Locating The Soul

- Do I locate this individual, [current name, born as (name at birth), on (date of birth) in (place of birth)] in the Akashic Records?
- Do I have this individual confused with any other, alive or dead?
- Is [client name] a mono-souled individual, with one Soul in this body for this lifetime?
- (If no) Is [client name] Soul-shifting with two or more Souls involved?

Establishing Soul Status

- Are any Soul situations disallowing access to Truth for this Soul at this time?
- (If yes) Is this Soul using a shell? Is this Soul a Changeling? Is this Soul a Light Power Imager?
- (If no) Is this Soul positive?
- (If no) Is this Soul negative?

For Shells

- Is this shell being used for the sake of protection?
- (If no) Is this shell being used for the sake of deception?
- Does this shell originate from a positive Soul? A negative Soul?
- To what percentage does this Soul identify with the Soul from which the shell originated? Less than 50%? More than 50%? (Dowse for within 10%)

For Light Power Imaging

- For how many lifetimes has this Soul been practicing Light Power Imaging? More than one? Two? Etc.

For Soul-Shifting Situations

- How many Souls are involved in this Soul-shifting situation?(Two? Three? Four? Etc.)
- Is this a one-time situation (MUST be two Souls ONLY), or is it ongoing?

For ongoing Soul-shifting ONLY:

- Which Soul was originally intended for this physical incarnation? (Usually 1BOLS, sometimes others. The intended Soul is your "client.")
- What percentage of the time does the 1BOLS spend in the body? More than 50%? 60%? Etc. What percentage of time does the 2BOLS spend in the body? Etc. (MUST add up to 100%)
- Does the Soul shift happen daily? Weekly? Monthly? Less than monthly?
